THE SPORTS EVENT by James Koo

A sports event erupted on Thursday October 7, 2010, exploding with athletic events that included soccer, basketball, football, dodgeball and more. Two departments from Hannam University battled it out on the field, but only one department came out victorious. Linton Global College (LGC) was able to stand strong against the athletic prowess of the Law School, defeating them in several sporting events. The Law School had several of their departments competing that day, the Union, 'Public Officials', 'Criminal', 'Social Law', 'Patent', 'Law Form', and 'Private Law' all took part in the sporting occasion showing off their skill and showmanship. The weather was nice with sunshine and a calm fall breeze. LGC students gathered in the sports field at 8:30 A.M. where the students started to do miscellaneous work such as setting up tables and tents. They also made Korean pan-

THE WORST RESTROOM IN THE LAW SCHOOL BUILDING by Jee-hea Seong

Entering into the mid-term exam period, it is interesting to note that many students are complaining about the restroom facilities in the Law School building. The restroom is always crowded with a lot of students during the exam period because there is a major library in the law building. Consequently, there are complaints that there is not enough soap, or toilet paper, and the restroom is very dirty. It is believed that the student welfare government should oversee this situation and attempt to remedy it. One student stated in an interview, "I think the restroom in the Law School building is the worst I've ever been in at Hannam University. The Ventilation is too small to remove the bad smell, and the trash cans are always filled with trash." As accusations become stronger, students wait to see how the student welfare department deals with this problem.

IN DAEJEON: DUNSAN GRAND PARK by Cruise Lee

Daejeon City has many interesting places and events throughout the year, such as its Culture Festival, Daejeon Expo and many more. Of the many interesting places in Daejeon, Dunsan Grand Park is the best. The park is located in Manyeon-dong, Seogu. It is composed of an Art Center, Daejeon Museum of Art and the Hanbat Arboretum.

The Art Center is a majestic building with an impressive roof. It includes the art hall, ensemble hall, convention hall and an open theater. The art hall and ensemble hall are theaters with mostly modern facilities. Many operas, ballets, musicals and plays are performed in these halls. The convention hall, on the other hand, hosts international conferences and many kinds of seminars. The hall also has the ability to provide simultaneous interpretation in four languages and has a recording capacity.

Daejeon Museum of Art is a modern art museum managed by Daejeon City. It was built to contribute to the advancement of modern art in Korea and to improve the cultural amenities of the city. The museum includes a display gallery, photograph gallery, seminar hall, reference room and many other halls. In fact, there are a total of five display galleries. These galleries exhibit art works that reflect modern Korean culture and society. There are a total 280 art collections. The exterior of the museum includes a grass park and fountain to add to the overall beauty of the Daejeon Museum of Art.

Finally, the Hanbat Arboretum in Daejeon is the biggest arboretum in Korea. Hanbat Arboretum was created to preserve a variety of plant life in Korea, to provide an educational experience for teenagers and young adults, and to provide fresh air and the beauty of a forest for residents of Daejeon City. It encompasses an area of 387,000m<sup>2</sup> and has 19 kinds of parks, such as a medicinal plant park, fruit tree park, rock park, and many more. It is a very wonderful place to visit.

cakes called 'Boochimgae'. They ate 'Boochimgae' and 'Gimbap' for breakfast. Opening statements were held in the field by LGC's new Dean, Dong-ho Shin and the student presidents of the Law School and LGC. After simple stretching, at 09:40 A.M., the sports event opened.

The first game of the day was soccer, followed by basketball, women's dodgeball, and foot volleyball. There were various matches throughout the entire day.

LGC's female kickball players showed tremendous power against 'public officials'. The game was called after only one inning because of the 10-run mercy rule, so LGC won 14-1.

The tug-of-war match was held at 05:26. Ten men and five women participated in the game. The first match was LGC versus 'Union'. The rule was decided to play the best of three games. By winning two sets in a row, LGC won the first match over 'Union'. However, in the semi-final match held at 07:05, LGC lost the match by losing two sets in a row.

The men's soccer team of LGC also stayed strong until the final match. LGC and "Patent" played a very exciting game and they finally went to a penalty kick match at 08:00 because the score was tied at the end of overtime. Fortune did not smile upon LGC players. LGC received second place in the soccer tournament

The last match of the day was a relay race held at 08:30. The players consisted of three men and three women. In the relay race, LGC showed off their quick speed and happily ended the day by winning the last tournament.

The closing ceremony was held at 08:40, almost two hours and forty minutes behind schedule. Despite the delay, it was never a boring day for LGC students because LGC won the overall championship of the tournament!

SAY WHAT?!? “SEX BEFORE MARRIAGE!” by Sheena Kim

Sexual behavior before marriage has changed over time becoming normal for a high percentage of Koreans and Americans, including teenagers and college students regardless of religious beliefs. Although in the bible it says not to have sex before marriage, regardless of religious beliefs, people do it. Many people have questions like, “Is sex before marriage safe?” or “How do you make the right decision about when and with whom you should have sex?” The answer is simple. Sex is a basic human instinct and every person has the desire to enjoy a physical relationship with someone they care about. Having sex with someone you love can bring pure joy and pleasure to your life. But when it is used in the wrong way, sex can cause guilt, depression, disease, anxiety, and low self-esteem. So it is very important to think carefully before acting. For example, when college students have a sexual relationship with each other, the girl can get pregnant and this can lead to an abortion or adoption and she could even give up going to school. If it is used in the wrong way, sex can stop you from achieving your dream; so before acting, you should always be careful and be cautious. It is very crucial to use birth control when having sex before marriage. According to the an article in Time magazine, one professor created a survey and found that out of 250 people, 70% permit “sexual experimentation” before marriage. But the other 30% want to make a commitment to save sex for after marriage. If you disagree with having sex before marriage, you should make a promise to yourself that you won’t engage in sexual activity until you are married. The best way to make sure you keep your word is to share your promise with a pastor or parent. For example, a tangible reminder such as a ring may help you to remember your commitment. “I personally agree with this...”

GH: Do you agree or disagree with having sex before marriage and what are your reasons?

Sarah: I personally agree with this because I think if you love someone so much, it is okay to have sex before marriage. I want to have a lot of experience in dating and I want to meet many boys before marriage so I can choose my husband carefully.

Jo-EI: I think have sex before marriage is very important because if sex does not satisfy each partner, than it can be a reason for divorce.

Leona: I agree, because sex is one way to express love. In my opinion, if you love someone it is okay to have sex before marriage.

LGC CLUBS by James Koo

In LGC, there is a club called, 'Frontier'. The members do volunteer work to give some opportunities for poor and orphan students in elementary, middle, and high school to enhance their English skills. From 2007 the members have continually done volunteer work in places such as Jahaewon and Sungnam Childrens' Center in the east of Daejeon city. Currently, all students, excluding freshmen, participate in this club activity. By participating in this activity, students can have opportunities to have closer relationships with seniors and juniors. Furthermore, the students can fill up the mandatory seventy two hours of volunteer work to graduate from Hannam University.

Cosmopolitan is a new LGC club which allows members to experience and understand other cultures and learn other languages. Cosmopolitan meets every Thursday at English café from six to nine pm. Students from other departments in Hannam University are encouraged to become members of our club. The members will be mainly talking casually with foreign people in whatever language they want to speak. By doing so, students will be able to broaden their cultural background as well as language skills. The Club fee is free. Please, contact 010-9617-2777 for more information.

Linton Hookies is the LGC baseball club. It was formed by three students who favor baseball in October 2009 at a time when there were no sports clubs in LGC. It was approved officially in November of 2009 by the Dean of LGC. Now there are thirteen members playing in the club. This has enabled the members to play practice games and participate in several tournament games in 2010. Contact 010-2455-6891 for more information.

In LGC, there also exists Global Horizons, which publishes the LGC newspaper, and Spicy Plum which puts on musical performances.

GH: Do you agree or disagree with having sex before marriage and what are your reasons?

Ryo: Maybe, I think it is okay to have sex if she is the one I am going to marry.

Gerrard: I agree with having sex before marriage because, if I love that person, I think it is okay to have sex before marriage and also since it is one way to express how much you love that person.

Professor Kendra: From a Christian perspective, I believe God created sex to be shared in a loving committed relationship called marriage for a reason. Having sex outside of mar- riage opens you up to be used, abused, and misused. Remember that God is the "creator" and anything outside of the true "Creator" is an "imitator", and when it comes to love, sex, and marriage, you do not want an "imitation" of something, you want the "real thing".

People believe that if you "love" a person, then it is ok to have sex because it is a way to show love, but I strongly disagree. Remember the Bible says, that love is "patient, kind, long-suffering, and that it keeps no counts of any wrongs. If love is patient and kind, then why the rush to have sex? Most people I know have sex because of the physical feeling of it; they never mention love or marriage, and sex is never a reason for divorce. There are usually many underlining reasons for divorce. Problems in a marriage will usually manifest in the couples sex life. In short (and my opinion), to ensure that you are getting the real thing and the true desires of your heart – be careful not to quickly soak up the words a man may say to you. What is in his heart will show. His mind will speak words, his integrity will display in his character, and his heart will protect you. Trust his actions not his words. Marriage comes before sex. (Marriage will display his heart towards you; sex displays his desire for you).

NEW DEAN OF LGC by Cruise Lee

LGC opens its arms to a new dean, Dr. Dong-ho Shin. The previous dean, Dr. Kiho Song is missed, but LGC wishes him all the best in his future and quick recovery so that he can continue to help students and improve academic life at Hannam University.

Dr. Shin is an Urban Planner specializing in International Area Studies and has been maintaining a position as a professor at the Department of Urban & Real Estate Studies, College of Social Sciences at Hannam, for 16 years. He has also been very active not only as an academic but also as a practitioner. In the past, he worked for Daejeon Technopark as a Director of the Industrial Planning Agency, and taught courses at Hitochubashi University in Japan and Brock University in Canada. Currently, he also holds a position at Brock as an adjunct professor.

GH: How did you become dean of LGC?

Dean Shin: There is a dean at each college of Hannam University. They are elected by professors of each department within their college. However, the dean of LGC is a special case. The president of Hannam University nominates LGC's dean.

GH: What's your plan to improve LGC?

Dean Shin: Students want a quality education from university, not simply to learn English. For example, they want professional knowledge of Communication and Culture and Global Business. So, I plan to strengthen the teaching ability and administrative capacities of each department. Also, we need to change or add some regulations which are different concerning the purpose of education and also related to education. We need to see how much we can do in a couple of years from the existing system at Hannam. We may have to wait for a few years to see the results. Hannam University is committed to making LGC stronger and more famous because developing LGC is good to improve Hannam University as a whole. I want to help students experience practical education such as internships. I will be diligently working towards and encouraging students to get a good job.

GH: What are some of the problems of LGC?

Dean Shin: One of the departments, Global Communication & Culture, is not well recognized as just journalism in Korea. Actually, many Koreans don't know what a Communication major is. We also need to improve the economy of running LGC. From an economic point of view, two departments are in one college. It is not efficient. So, we need to add, for example, International Area Studies and International Development majors or International MBA as a graduate program. I want to expand the college. In addition, we need good facilities or equipment for a better education.

GH: What do you hope for from LGC students?

Dean Shin: Students! I suggest to observe the English only policy for your future. Actually, I understand it is not easy because most of you are not native English speakers. It is a big challenge. It is very important for you keep LGC's policy to improve your English.

GH: It is nice talking to you. Thank you!

Dean Shin: Thank you!

NEW TEACHER ON THE BLOCK

by Melissa Park

If we think of one cool club in Linton Global College, it would be the recently created basketball club, Linton Bounce. Linton Bounce is an LGC club for promoting friendship through playing basketball. I interviewed Professor Ken Morrison who is recently very famous for being a member of Linton Bounce. Prof. Morrison teaches Media and Global Communication courses at LGC. I talked to him about his advice for students at LGC.

According to Prof. Morrison, an optimistic attitude is the most important thing in his life and he feels it can benefit students in terms of studying. Prof. Morrison and I talked about the desirable virtues of LGC students. Also I inquired not only about his casual life, but also in building good relationships between professors and the students.

On September 29, Wednesday, I met Professor Morrison in the English Café. He is a man who loves to ride bicycles and enjoys reading as much as he enjoys playing basketball. When he was a child, his father was a coach in his hometown. His father's outstanding performance helped him bring victory to the team. In this process, he began to take an interest in his father's leadership skills and his team's performance. He told me that his father had a huge impact on him both through coaching basketball and as a science teacher. So he is thankful that he could take part in the sports day basketball games as a Linton Bounce member. He showed his human aspect while playing which makes students' relationship friendlier than in the classroom. He casually threw in a few comments about the attitude of a good stu-

The Mummy: Tomb of the Dragon Emperor played upstairs while Shrek 3, a fairytale comedy, was being played down stairs. The night was filled with popcorn, pizza, and candy that lasted the entire evening. The occasion started around 7pm and ended around 9pm. There was a nice crowd in attendance and the atmosphere was warm. The event was organized by LGC Professor Kendra so that students had the opportunity to relax and enjoy the English Café's facilities before the semester became challenging with preparations for exams. As Donkey said from the movie Shrek 3, "I think that went pretty well".

REMODELED BOOKSTORE by Esther Choi

There is a newly remodeled bookstore located in the Law School building at Hannam University. So I interviewed a few people to find out more information about this. The first person I interviewed was the bookstore manager.

Q. The bookstore has been remodeled. Was there any reason for this fresh start?

A. Yes. The owner has changed. The bookstore was run as an independent business. But now, the university owns it. And we need to improve the quality of this bookstore.

Q. Can you tell me details about how this bookstore changed compared with before?

A. Sure. First, the size of this bookstore has become almost twice as big as before, and secondly, we formed a lot of routes in the bookstore so that customers can move easily and flexibly. And thirdly, the outward appearance was cleaned to give customers an impression of freshness and clean-dent. "Keeping energy all the time is the most important thing. You have to have energy in your mind. Creative performances come from your positional energy."

"I hope he makes a difference in LGC..."

Also students should always be ready to explore new things to learn. "Having a positive mind and passion for learning leads to success for students." As I expected, Prof. Morrison is an energetic person.

Linton Global College has more special curriculum than other colleges because all classes are based on using English. Some students who have a poor English ability have a difficult time studying and this is natural for them because they never went abroad to study English before.

In terms of a professors perspective, he regarded one episode as overcoming difficulties. A plump girl who has low strength decided to participate in a marathon for her health. On the first day, she was panting and unable to talk. If she exercises every day, her strength will gradually improve and she will be more comfortable. Learning English is the same principle. Make steady and persistent effort for your improved English skills.

He answered my interview questions with a huge smile. As a good professor in LGC, he suggested that he is always willing to help students improve. Since he is new to LGC, we should make him feel comfortable and try to be close to him. I hope he makes a difference in LGC and I hope that students here make persistent efforts to improve their English skills.

ness. And fourthly, we developed from a small-scale stationery and bookstore into a large-scale store which is not only sells books and stationery, but also sells what more customers want. And lastly, we made places for customers to dine and relax. We want this bookstore to become a more friendly place to the customers than it was before.

Q. In your point of view, how do you think people will react to this new campus bookstore?

A. Personally, I think they like it. Whenever they came here after remodeling, they said things like "oh wow look at this! It's all new! And it's became so big!" I've heard that a lot..

Q. By remodeling, have there been any actual profit increase?

A. I can't say yes or no. We are maintaining profits same as last semester. We couldn't increase profits because of internet markets. Now, people buy things by internet. So it is very hard to survive as a bookstore. But we've maintained our profits. And I think it's very good.

The second person I interviewed was a Hannam University student from the Department of Commerce and Trade.

Q. Did you know the campus bookstore has been remodeled? And if you knew, how did you find out?

A. Yes. I knew that. because, I was aware that the signboard has changed.

Q. What do you think about the new campus bookstore?

A. I think it's really clean and wide. I know that it became nice and fine, but I don't like that the new store removed the coupon system. I used to go there because of it. But now I don't.

Q. Any other opinions?

A. I just want the coupon system returned. I don't go to the bookstore often. I think they should develop efficient management not just some outward show.

He was not happy about what happened to the store. He didn't mind the outdoor looks or big-scale store. He only wanted lower prices, and the old coupon system.

Thank You for Reading Global Horizons.
